The Fatal Shooting Affair Tuesday Night. In the Courier yesterday we made a brief statement of the facts of the shooting of watchman Coulter and Wm. Gilmore, in a sudden affray Tuesday night. Coulter was shot in the breast and arm, too, we believe, and died in about half an hour. Wm. Gilmore was shot in the right breast, the ball ranging through to the left shoulder, also, a very dangerous wound, and his recovery is considered doubtful.

Our attention has been called to different versions of this affair that appeared in the Journal and Bulletin, which we are assured, are incorrect in their particulars. The affair should undergo a judicial investigation, and partisans statements by interested parties should not be entertained. If Mr. Gilmore survives his wound, he will not shrink from a rigid investigation before the proper tribunal.

We are credibly informed that Gilmore fired but one shot at Coulter, and that was after he had been shot by the latter. In drawing his pistol, however, it was prematurely discharged. The second shot was aimed at Coulter, and no doubt hit him, as the coroner's verdict asserts such to be the case. Some eight shots were fired, altogether, at the officer and a third party, whose name we have forgotten, was slightly wounded. Our information was obtained from witnesses of the affair, who reiterate their former statements, and we have no reason to doubt their truth.

We deplore the death of Coulter, who we understand, was a very poor man, leaving a widow and several small children unprovided for.

ACCIDENTS AT THE ILLUMINATION.—We have heard of a number of persons being struck by rockets, "serpents," or other explosive missiles, on the night of the illumination. Of course it was the result of carelessness. The wife of Mr. Nick Demar, while standing with a child in her arms, on the corner of Third and Main streets, was struck in the face by a rocket. Her husband caught the child as she was falling, and she fell heavily on the pavement. The rocket mangled her face horribly, and crushed the cheek bone. Both eyes were burned with the powder, and it is feared she will lose one, and perhaps both.

Mr. Murdoch, of the firm of Bell & Murdoch, was seriously burned by a "serpent" entering his house. He suffered intensely from the accident.

The dresses of two ladies caught fire from some of these fiery articles, and one of them fainted. Some rascally youngsters seemed to delight in exploding their fireworks at the feet of ladies. A lady who was giving these "warm greetings" from the balcony of the National, was slightly burned on the neck, and there were other cases of trivial moment.

A NATIONAL BATTLE.—A most exciting sham battle was fought during the telegraphic illumination, between the ladies on the balcony of the National Hotel and the observers who crowded the corner of Fourth and Main streets, and that immediate vicinity. The artillery used was the harmless explosive missile called Roman candles, and so far the battle raged fiercely, with doubtful success, and it was finally made a drawn battle. The ladies were too high to make a good fight. Had they fought on the ground they could have fought with more ease, and without doubt vanquished their adversaries. The women generally directed their missiles well, but the bad aim of some showed there was more than one miss, but certainly we never saw fairer fighters. A friend tells us that his "spies" seemed a point of attack—that he was wounded at an early time in the action, and retired. With a single for he thinks he might share better, and from such, he desires us to say, he will decline no challenge, feeling willing to come within the range of an artillery of bright eyes.

THEATER.—It is not often that a new pantomime is produced. This class of plays possesses so infinite a fund of merriment and fascination that the same ones for years will continue to draw crowded houses. But the Martinetti's, with a praiseworthy desire of presenting all the attractions possible to the public, are about to produce, for the first time in this city, an entirely new one—new tricks, new dresses, new scenery, new transformations, new everything, in a fact—a treat of the very first quality. It is entitled Esther, or the Enchanted Rose, and we are assured is one of the best pantomimes out. We hope the first representation will be greeted to-night by a full audience.

LIEUTENANT A. H. HOLCOMBE.—In our paper of Tuesday we published, from the Vicksburg papers, a statement of the death of Lieutenant Holcombe, by asphyxia, at the Prentiss' House. He was the son of Mrs. C. A. Tillery, from whom he received a superior education, which qualified him for the rank he reached in the United States Navy. He was in the naval service twenty-four years, and was an excellent officer. At the time of his death he was drawing a lieutenant's half pay.

GROSS OUTRAGE.—As the ship Francis B. Cutt, a large steamship, arrived on the evening of the 23d at the city, it was employed to procure seamen for the vessel, put aboard two German landsmen, who were intoxicated at the time, as seamen. The next morning, while in the bay, but near the mouth of the Mississippi, the poor fellows, unable to board the ship, were left adrift, with no food or shelter, and were found floating on the water, with their clothes torn and their bodies half-naked. They were rescued by the crew of the ship, and were taken to the hospital, and the city, where they have had access to that information.

These figures show, we think, pretty conclusively, that, though the number of exploded yellow fuses is immensely large, we have not, as yet, approached any such terrible possibility as desolated our city in '53 and '57. We think this is a reasonable inference from the facts already detailed.

Kentucky Election.

Returns have been received from 67 counties in which Revill has a majority over Moke of 12,425. In the counties to hear from, which are Clinton, Letcher, McLean, Powell, Whitley, Rowan, Jackson, last year; Garrard recorded 2,170, and Jones 966. Revill's majority, it seems, will be more than 12,000.

Messrs. S. G. Henry & Co. are receiving in their additional auction room (lately occupied by Dr. G. Mathers), the fine furniture, quareware, bed and bedding, and fixtures, of the steamer David White, which they design for next Wednesday, August 29th. They encourage to say she was fitted out by our friend, Capt. McGill, her commander, with everything that would render her comfortable, elegant and complete.

A painful rumor has been in circulation in our community for some days, in connection with Dr. J. D. McDowell, one of the oldest and most reputable practitioners in the West, who removed this summer to Lexington, Missouri, about two years since.

It is supposed that the boat on which he had embarked to return to Ky., for a temporary purpose, coming in contact with some obstacle, was lost, and that the steamer ran aground, and never reached the port of destination.

DAILY COURIER

Steamboat and River News.

STEAMBOATS LEAVING THIS DAY.

FOR PARTICULARS SEE ADVERTISEMENTS.

INTERCHANGE, Pine, Memphis.

WILLIAMSON, McCalpin, St. Louis.

R. M. PATTON No. 2, Bernard, Henderson.

TIME, PATTON, Florence.

THE RIVER was still falling yesterday, with three feet four inches water in the canal, fast evening by the mark. The fall will last two more days, and the water will be down four hours.

The weather continues quite warm and dry, with an attempt at rain in the evening, though only experienced a high wind for a brief space.

At Cincinnati the river is still steadily falling, and navigation beyond the former point extremely difficult, with but a little over four feet on Rising Sun and Guspawer bars.

The Boston, coming down, rubs hard at both the.

127 The following from the Cincinnati Commercial of yesterday will be of interest to boatmen, just now:

INSTEAD TO STEAMBOATS.—COMMON CARGO.—Each vessel will fall in behind, which is of no small interest and importance to the carriers.

Some time ago, the steamer Rocket, commanded by Capt. Hurst, arrived at this port from Pittsburgh, bound to New Orleans, and was the first vessel of a usual protocol had been entered, to Williamson and Ward, who had a quantity of oats consigned to them, and no notice of protest when the boat sunk. On the arrival of the Rocket, her cargo for this port was discharged.

The vessel had been in the river for their command within twenty-four hours from the time of their arrival, and had been sufficient time, and had been delayed by the passengers. Paul & Murdoch sent to the steamer, Messrs. Paul & Murdoch, agents for the Rocket, were authorized by the captain to store the goods in the hold, and the consignment, but refused to accept them, but refused to pay storage and other costs upon the demand of the agents. The oats were sent to the steamer, and the vessel had been delayed by the passengers.

PAUL & MURDOCH.—The market is firm, and we have sales of 1500 pieces of good barging at 19c and 20c, and 500 cells of machine soap at 7c. This was early in the week, but bidders are now demanding higher rates, which will probably be sustained, as hemps advance. Stock light.
